PRELIMINARY.

1.—There are two kinds of persons: natural persons and juristic persons.

DIVISION I.

NATURAL PERSONS.

2.—In this division "person" means only a natural person.

TITLE I.

General Provisions.

CHAPTER I.

AGE.

3.—A person who has not completed his twentieth year of age is a minor.

4.—A person who married before having completed his twentieth year of age ceases to be a minor.

5.—When a person ceases to be a minor he is said to be of full age.

6.—Whenever reference is made in the law to the age of a person, it is meant that the whole number of years referred to shall have elapsed since the birth of such person.

7.—If it is impossible to ascertain the date of the birth of a person, his age shall be calculated from the last day of the official year during which such birth took place.
